

PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

The goal of Magnetic Resonance Imaging Clinics of North America is to keep practicing physicians up to date with current clinical practice by providing timely articles reviewing the state of the art in patient care.

TARGET AUDIENCE

All practicing physicians and healthcare professionals who provide patient care utilizing findings from Magnetic Resonance Imaging.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. Review how normal physiologic changes in the uterus and associated reproductive organs differ from disease-related changes.
2. Discuss the benefits of using MRI in conjunction with standardized protocols and scoring systems when diagnosing and managing diseases of the uterus and related reproductive organs.
3. Recognize MRI as a first-line tool for identifying abnormalities and disease states in the uterus and reproductive organs.

ACCREDITATION

The Elsevier Office of Continuing Medical Education (EOCME) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
